Vol. X, No. 29

Budget Adopted for Serra Pilgrimage

The cost of the Serra Pilgrimage celebration has been set at $30,000 by the executive committee having the matter in charge.

Of this amount $8000 or more has already been raised. To raise the balance every merchant, business and professional man or firm on the Peninsula will be requested to become a guarantor of the Pilgrimage expenses by signing notes for the amount they care to be responsible for. These notes will be returned in full if the Pilgrimage clears expenses. It is estimated that the total receipts will easily reach $75,000. The notes will be made payable to Carmel Martin, chairman of the executive committee.

The expenses itemized on the budget are as follows: Pageants, both night and day, $5000; Fiesta de Vaqueros, $2500; La Contienda de Danza Espanola, $4000, of which $1500 will be devoted to the expenses of the dance contest and $2500 to conducting a ten cent dance pavilion; costume ball at Hotel Del Monte, $1000; music, $2000; extra regimental band, $600; burlesques and specialties, $500; art exhibit, $1000; street decorations, $3000; Feast of Lanterns, exclusive of fireworks, $800; fireworks, including display for Feast of Lanterns, $1000; expenses of bringing 30th Infantry from San Francisco, $750; publicity and advertising, $3000; handling traffic and parking, $600; housing, $500; overhead expenses, including salaries of directors, rain and other insurance, $2050; unbudgeted, $2900; giving a total of $30,000.

These estimates have been compiled from estimates of costs by committees in charge of every part of the week's affairs. The budget has been considered and recommended by Manager Perry Newberry; considered and accepted by the finance committee; and endorsed by the executive committee.

Sources of Revenue

There are nine sources of revenue from the Serra Pilgrimage, according to a report, showing the plan of finance, which gives them as follows:

Admissions to six performances of pageants, capacity 5000 per performance; admissions to three performances of La Fiesta de Vaqueros with capacity of 5000 at each performance; seven afternoons and evenings of the ten cent dance pavilion, with La Contienda de Danza Espanola, capacity 500 couples each dance; seven mornings, afternoons and evenings of Streets of Spain at the ball park, capacity 5000; costume ball at Hotel Del Monte with capacity of 1500; commission on all concessions at the ball park; commission on all concessions outside the ball park, admissions, commissions on sales and catalogue at art exhibit, parking of automobiles on private grounds.

Pledges made to date include: Del Monte Properties company, $2500; T. A. Work, $1000; T. J. Field, $1000; Carmel Martin, $500; Phil K. Gordon, $500; John B. Jordan, $500; Byington Ford, $200; P. J. Dougherty, $200; Peninsula Daily Herald, $300; Carl Stanley, $200; Jo Mora, $200; Marcy Woods, $200; Emmet McMenamin, $200; Rolin G. Watkins, $100; Miss Maria Antonia Field, $100; Fenton P. Foster, $100; Perry Newberry, $100; Colonel James Brees, $100.

A pleasant and profitable afternoon is anticipated at the home of Rev. W. G. White, second house from corner Ninth and Camino Real, when the Carmel Missionary Society invite friends and strangers to enjoy with them the address by Mrs. W. F. Gloeckner, who was a missionary in Chile and is now rendering valuable service to her husband, who is Y. M. C. A. secretary among Monterey soldiers. She brings a message from South America. The violin music by Mrs. A. B. Chinn, and lastly, the social hour. All are cordially invited, 3:00 P. M., Wednesday, August 27th.

Our District Supervisor

THIS important office will be filled by the winner of the primary election next Tuesday.

It is the duty of Carmel voters to cast their ballots for the candidate of their choice, as many matters of vital importance to Carmel, the Valley and the Coast must be handled by the successful candidate.

If you are interested in the early completion of the improvements being made on the highway between Carmel and Monterey, do not fail to go to the polls next Tuesday and vote to keep Dr. John L. D. Roberts on the job, and urge your friends to do likewise.

Jordan's Contribution to Picturesque Carmel

By Margaret Fortier

Edward Kuster has his Theatre of the Golden Bough, its court, and its unique little shops; Ruth has her weaving; Maurice Browne and Ellen Van Volkenburg have their play ideas and their school; Helen Wilson, her Bloomin' Basement; Tillie, her antiques; Steve Glassell, his Cabbages and Kings, Ltd.; Mossie Hunkins, her tea room; Bill Overstreet, the Pine Cone; Louis Slevin, his Photographs; Perry Newberry, the Pageants. I might go on indefinitely. Hobbies all—dear to the hearts of their conceivers, and every one redounding to the power and glory of Carmel.

Now comes John Jordan with his toy—a complete little suburb of our City—a community in itself, where one may have all the comforts of home without the exertions thereof.

The next time you go to the Golden Bough, just cross the street diagonally and you'll find yourself in an old English lane. The acacias hide it from the street and the bustling traffic. You just come upon it, and it is a pretty surprise. Six brand new cottages—not in a row, but here and there with the unit idea unbroken. Blocks of stone (there is to be moss-planted between them) make the communicating paths. Old fashioned flowers were planted and blooming before the building was completed. The trees have not been disturbed. The little homes have all been artistically furnished, each has its individual color scheme.

This is John's contribution to the beautification of Ocean avenue. It's his plaything, as I said before, and he is like a boy when you say anything about it.

The other day I overheard a group of tourists reading from a list while standing in front of the Bank, "The next place to see is the Annex to Pine Inn." That's how I came upon it. I followed them.

Will the time ever come when all the business people of Ocean avenue make of their workshops, hobbies—beautiful playthings?

Owing to a necessary throat operation, it will be impossible for some time for Hedwiga Reicher to assist Lal Chand Mehra in his proposed lectures on Hindu literature at the Theatre of the Golden Bough, and the series scheduled for next week has had to be canceled. It is hoped that these lectures and readings can be arranged for in the late fall or early winter.

The California Polytechnic school at San Luis Obispo will open its fall term September 15 with Dr. B. R. Cranall, formerly of the University of California Department of Agriculture, beginning his duties as president of the institution, succeeding Nicholas Ricciardi, now state director of vocational education.

Sojourner Writes of Carmel and Salome

By J. U. Higinbotham

I have not the time, paper or adjectives to tell you our impressions of Carmel, loveliest village of the plain people. We caught the atmosphere as soon as we reached the margin of the town. I believe "margin" is more literary than "border". A woman was hanging out washing and some one in the car remarked: "See. Her stuff is making the line." The paved streets were a disappointment and a gratification. The sidewalks were all that a sober man could ask and the tiny homes hidden by trees made us want to stop and say, "Hello, folks," to the contented-looking people within.

But I shall not start on the beauties of Carmel, many of whom we saw walking on whatever you call your particular Main Street. Nor of the 17-mile drive, which is a succession of gasps that makes the sensitive soul sound like a motor boat on a stiff grade. In fact, the husband of the sensitive soul suggested that she cut out the cut out. Nor of Lobos Point, with its rocks, its foaming surf, its ghostly trees and countless views. Nor of the marvelous shore line, gnawed by old Father Pacific, who frothed and foamed as he found rocks that resisted him and caused him to spit up the crumbs of preceding meals.

No. We went to see The Theatre of the Golden Bough, and "The Princess Salome," and the scenic prolog above enumerated was merely Carmel's salutation, her golden bow, as it were, to her visitors. The theatre is a gem which has been described by reader pens than mine. For beauty of line and comfort of patrons, it has no equal. All of the arrangements were not understood by me but that is attributable to my ignorance. The long fore-stage is "different" but occupies an amount of space that would cause a commercial manager to go out and kill a scalper. And I was equally in the dark regarding the lighting arrangements between acts 3 and 4.

But the play's the thing, and I hasten to felicitate Dan Totheroh on a novel, interesting, beautiful, credible and, yes, clean, treatment of a much misunderstood young lady. After this, when I hear anyone getting snippy about Cleopatra or Lucretia Borgia, I am going to withhold judgment until I can hear from Dan Totheroh.

The interest is carefully sustained and built up and the climax in the final scene is magnificent. Nothing better than the fourth and fifth scenes could be

The local public school fall term opens next Monday with four teachers. The enrollment is expected to be the largest in the school's history. A number of the pupils make their first appearance in any school.

Governor Appoints Superior Judge

Judge of the Superior Court in and for the County of Monterey, State of California.

That, fellow-citizens, is the title of Fred A. Treat, until his appointment by Governor F. W. Richardson last Saturday, assistant district attorney of this county and city attorney of Monterey.

Fred A. Treat was born in Salinas in 1873, and was a law student at Stanford University. He has practiced law since 1897. At various times he has been city attorney of Carmel, Monterey and Pacific Grove.

For a number of years he was associated with Attorneys Carmel Martin and W. G. Hudson. At the time of his appointment his associate was Argyll Campbell.

No question but what the governor has made the best appointment possible. It is said that District Attorney Albert Worth will appoint Argyll Campbell to the vacant deputy district attorneyship.

Mayor Benj. F. Wright has appointed Campbell city attorney of Monterey.

Carmel Beach Hotel Project Abandoned

The property upon which the proposed beach hotel was to be erected has been placed on the market. In fact, some of it has already been sold, it is reported.

When we harken back to last April and recall how excited most every one got during the election on the city zoning question, in which the hotel matter was an issue, it makes us feel foolish in view of the statement in the opening paragraph above.

No particular reason is advanced for the abandonment of the project, but nobody seems to be very sorry.

Reprints From Abroad

Since his connection with the Theatre of the Golden Bough, Maurice Browne has sent regularly to his mother in England press notices concerning the various activities of this splendid enterprise of Edward G. Kuster.

The notices in the newspapers had reached some proportions, having appeared in the San Francisco Chronicle from the pen of George Warren, dramatic critic; in the Peninsula Herald, and in the Pine Cone.

Mr. Browne was surprised the other day to receive from his mother a sheaf of these articles neatly reprinted in pamphlet form. He lost no time exhibiting them to his friends.

Coming Events

Tomorrow Evening—Folk songs and dances of eight European countries. Theatre of the Golden Bough.

August 25, 27, 30—Lecture series on Hindu literature, by Zal Chand Mehra. Theatre of the Golden Bough.

Ralph Arnot, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Y. Arnot of this city, and Miss Beryl Soles of Oakland were married last Friday evening at Del Monte chapel. Following the ceremony the young couple and their friends all journeyed to the Mission Tea House where a sumptuous repast was served amidst much jollity and dancing. The newly-weds are honeymooning in Vancouver, B. C.

A WISE CHOICE

In the appointment of Fred A. Treat to be Superior Court judge of this county to succeed J. A. Bardin, Governor Friend William Richardson and the people of Monterey county are to be congratulated.

Fred Treat has always been an honor to the bar and is an honor to the bench.

The governor has been singularly wise in his selection of judges. Of the approximately thirty judicial appointments which he has made, only three seeking election are opposed.

TWO THINGS THIS TOWN NEEDS

It is earnestly hoped that two matters requiring the urgent attention of the city board of trustees will be brought up at an early date.

First: The streets and vacant lots about the city are untidy and unattractive. Not only our own people, but the strangers within our gates frequently remark, "What a dirty town!" Why can we not have a general cleanup, ordered by the trustees, with a penalty for failure to do so?

Second: There are now probably two thousand permanent residents in Carmel. They have friends everywhere. These friends come here to this city to visit—by stage and in their own cars. After they reach Ocean avenue they are lost. Street signs are absolutely necessary to guide these visitors to their destination. Can these signs be provided for in the next budget?

Belgian Violinist at the Golden Bough

The last of the summer season at the Theatre of the Golden Bough will be the violin recital of Edouard Deru, violinist to the King and Queen of Belgium, who will appear on Sunday evening, August 31st.

Edouard Deru is one of the foremost violinists and is one of the best known artists of his country. He was soloist of the Saint-Saens Festival when the late French composer, who had the highest opinion of Mr. Deru's interpretation of his works, conducted the great accompanying orchestra. He has appeared frequently with Eugene Ysaye in Belgium, England and New York; also with Cortot, Faure, Myra Hess, Raoul Pugno, and many other of the greatest European artists.

In 1919 he was appointed professor at the famous Conservatory of Music at Liege, which post he still holds. He is the officially appointed violinist to the King and Queen of his country.

A more extended notice will appear next week. Seats for this attractive event are now on sale.

Who'll Get That Car?

Do your bit for the Carmel Humane Society. Your ticket for the Chevrolet touring car is waiting for you at the Chevrolet-Buick agency next to the Postoffice.

The car will be given away at the Manzanita Theatre on the evening of Saturday, August 30.

Mayor William T. Kibbler of Carmel, Mayor Benjamin F. Wright of Monterey, and Mayor W. J. Gould of Pacific Grove will be on hand as joint masters of ceremonies. Do your bit!

After many weeks here, conducting several classes in the Golden Bough school of the theatre arts, Miss Hedwiga Reicher has returned to San Francisco. In the bay city she will conduct her own school of the drama, with Blanding Sloane a member of the faculty.

Mr. and Mrs. James O'Hara have returned from New York. They went east via the Panama Canal. The journey home was made by steamer to New Orleans and thence by rail. Visits with old friends and sight-seeing occupied them during the three months absence.

Annual Exhibition of Art Next Month

The eighteenth annual exhibition of paintings, etchings and small sculpture to be held by the Carmel Club of Arts and Crafts, will be opened to the general public at the clubhouse, September 16.

On Monday evening, September 15, there will be a reception and private view.

works by artists permanently or temporarily residing on the Monterey Peninsula and vicinity.

The committee in charge of the affair is composed of M. De Neale Morgan, chairman, A. J. Hammond, A. B. Champlin.

The exhibit will continue until October 20, which will take in the Serra Pilgrimage week.

Former Carmelites Back From East

Mr. and Mrs. George J. Koch, who were local residents for four years up to 1918, are again in our midst. They arrived Wednesday night from Trumbull, Conn.

Since they were here six years ago they have resided in New York and New Jersey also. Mr. Koch, who is an artist with an established reputation, has held a number of very successful exhibitions in New York and other places.

The trip to California was made via Cuba and the Panama Canal on the steamer Manchuria.

The present plan of the Kochs is to remain in Carmel or the Highlands for a year at least. They may acquire property, build and locate here permanently.

Thomas Sedan a Total Wreck

While driving over from Monterey and nearing the crest of Carmel hill last Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Lawton Thomas' six-cylinder sedan burst into flames, and before the fire could be extinguished the car was a charred, twisted mass of metal.

Mrs. Thomas' presence of mind did not desert her for an instant. Realizing what she was up against, she ran the car to the side of the road, picked up her bunch of keys from the seat and calmly alighted from the burning machine. The loss is fully covered by insurance.

Folk Songs and Dances at the Golden Bough

Tomorrow evening the Theatre of the Golden Bough will present the Misses Peronne and Constance Arntzenius, in a rare and fascinating repertoire of folk songs and dances of eight European countries. These engaging young daughters of the Secretary of the Chamber of the States General at The Hague, Holland, and are now on a tour of the world. They present a program of genuine folk songs of Holland, Great Britain, France, Germany, Italy, Spain, Russia and Norway, all in their original language, and translate the songs and explain their origin and influences in a quaint way, said to be all their own. In addition, they give several genuine old Dutch peasant dances in costume, prefacing their program with a short talk on the customs and costumes of Holland.

Those in Carmel fortunate enough to meet these interesting young people on the occasion of their visit last week, have been enthusiastic in their requests that tomorrow night's program be arranged, and it is expected that notwithstanding the short notice, a large audience will attend.

COAST VALLEYS GETS PERMISSION TO ISSUE NEW STOCK

Word was received August 14 by James F. Pollard, Vice-President and General Manager of Coast Valleys Gas and Electric company, that the State Railroad Commission has granted the company permission to issue $1,000,000 worth of 7 per cent preferred stock. This new issue of stock has been made necessary by the rapid growth of the community and the desire of the Coast Valleys Company to put its property in the very best physical condition.

The budget this year calls for the expenditure of over half a million dollars. A large per cent of this money is being spent in this immediate community, as the company plans to give its customers the best possible service throughout all its territory served.

Following the general plan of the management, this 7 per cent stock will be offered direct to the customers of the company through its newly created investment department. K. G. Coutchie, who has recently moved to Salinas with his family, is in charge of this department.
